FATHER TAYLOR CONNECTED WITH BASEBALL SINCE THE AGE OF 12

By GREGORY FAYRE

"I wouldn't give a dime a dozen for right handed first basemen." The man speaking has been connected with baseball since he was 12 years old and he was a right handed first baseman himself.

He is Father Hugh Taylor, assistant pastor of Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church.

Father Taylor began playing baseball when he was in grammar grades and also managed his first ball team during his years in elementary school at the Cathedral grade school in Nashville, Tenn.

Since then Father Taylor has played in many games and managed a number of teams.

During high school Father Taylor lettered in baseball and football for two years and participated in a little basketball.

From there he entered the junior seminary to begin his studies for the priesthood. While in the junior seminary he played baseball for two years and followed with six years for the major seminary team.

While in the major seminary Father played two years of professional ball in the Piedmont league and some semi-pro ball in Nashville. One of his teammates in the Piedmont league was Billy Meyers, who is now manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Due to illness Father Taylor had to give up the active participation in the game and he stayed close to it as a manager of kids baseball teams throughout the South.

Father Taylor has managed teams in Covington, and Paducah, Ky., Athens, Ga., Memphis, Tenn., and Natchez and Clarksdale, Miss., besides his work here in Bay St. Louis with the kids team.

He was largely responsible for the organization of Little League baseball in Mississippi. While in Clarksdale Father Taylor received the franchise for his team with the National Organization of the Little League Baseball.

"When I came to Bay St. Louis," Father Taylor said, "I took up the work of the late Forster Commagere, who had been managing the kids activities in sports."

He formed a team which has been known as the Bay St. Louis Junior baseball team. This year it was with great regret that Father Taylor had to turn in his resignation as general manager of this local team.

He hopes he can form a baseball organization here in the Bay with local business men acting as officers and the Board of Directors, and if it would be their wish he would like to act as commissioner of this organization.

Street bragged that he could catch a ball from an airplane flying at the same height. But it just so happened that Casey Stengel, who is now the famous manager of the New York Yankees, dropped a grapefruit from the plane instead of a baseball. Street caught it right on his head. Since then the league has been known as the Grapefruit League.

When asked why he was so interested in kids' baseball, Father stated "Besides my love for the game, it is a deterrent to junior delinquency and young men and boys will become so interested they will have no time for serious trouble."

Father Taylor is close friends with many of the big time baseball personalities.

T. J. Bourgeois Services Held

Bishop Dedicates New Kiln Youth Center

Citing the need to aid youth, the Most Rev. R. O. Gerow, Bishop of Natchez, dedicated the Kiln Youth Center last Sunday.

Father Charles said a special mass, and the Bishop followed with the sermon. Civic leaders from three counties attended the dedication.

Joseph Bernard, the architect for the building, presented the keys. Brother Walter, Hancock County Sheriff John Egloff, Sam Favre, Jr., and Father Charles then gave brief talks.

Among others attending were Johnson Shaw, president of the Hancock County Board of Supervisors; State Representative Walter James Phillips; Tax Assessor Claiborne Ladner; John D. Rutherford, Jr., commander of the 17th District of the American Legion; and Lucien Kidd, commander of the Bay St. Louis post of the American Legion.

The American Legion loaned its public address system for the ceremonies.

Guests included John Scaife, mayor of Bay St. Louis; Frances Hursey, mayor of Pass Christian; Garfield Ladner, mayor of Waveland; and Claiborne McDonald, mayor of Picayune.

The American Legion, through its Americanism chairman, Fred Fayard, Sr., presented the Youth Center with a flag.

Blood Bank Pumping Now

The first call was issued by the Hancock County blood bank Thursday, and services from donors was so swift, the needed transfusion was ready in 45 minutes.

Authorities at the Kings Daughters hospital initiated the blood bank operation by phoning eight persons who were on the list of volunteers. The first donor, Mrs. Alberta Beyer, was at the hospital in about 15 minutes—long before the calls to volunteers were complete.

The patient in need of blood was Mrs. Leo Bermond. Hers was not an emergency case. Donors were instructed not to be in an undue rush. Authorities noted with much pleasure, however, that the response came quickly enough to assure much improved chances for emergency cases.

In addition to Mrs. Beyer, Mrs. Imogene Allison, Mrs. Mary Carter and Ted Breland donated blood.

Lions Club Gives Thanks For Dimes Aid

City Asks For One Cent Of Each Seven Collected Through Gasoline Taxes

Waveland Sells Gas-Water Bonds; Let's Contract

The town of Waveland sold $70,000 worth of bonds of a gas and water system this weekend. Assigned contracts to get the work done.

The bonds were bought by M. A. Saunders of Memphis, Tenn.; Leonard Speed of Jackson, Miss.; and Arnold and Crane of New Orleans. They will collect about five per cent per year interest.

The contracts let for the work was:

Water and Gas System—Arthur Pex and E. N. Murray of Buena Vista, Ga. $17,974.30 for the gas system and $106,860 for water.

Water Well—C. T. Switzer, $13,338.50.

Water Tank—B. D. Cole Manufacturing Co., $23,870.

There were 16 bids on the gas and water system, five on the well and four on the tank.

HUBBARD OPPOSES BOND ISSUE FOR REPAIRS OF COUNTY BUILDINGS

Supervisor R. G. Hubbard, Jr., yesterday voiced objections to the proposed $30,000 bond issue which has been approved by the board.

Hubbard claimed the expenditures are not necessary.

In his statement, he said, "I wish the taxpayers of Hancock County to know that I am opposed to the $30,000 bond issue which has already been voted on and carried by the board, 4 to 1.

"My several reasons for voting against this issue are:

1. The Board will not hire an architect to see that the work is done right and that you get the full value of your dollar. 2. The last Grand Jury report, so far as I can see, only recommended that door stops be put on the Court room doors to keep them from slamming, and on repairs be done in the jail—of which painting has already been done and paid for.

"I did notice, however, the Grand Jury recommended that a night jailer be put on immediately, and so far, no effort has been made to comply.

"And $30,000, in my opinion, is far in excess of what is needed to make minor repairs to the Court House."

Meanwhile, Mrs. Adeline K. Samuel of the League of Women Voters called upon the board to use some of the proposed money to install living quarters in the county jail.

In a letter to Johnson Shaw, president of the board, she said "I read last week in the local paper that the board of Supervisors was considering a bond issue to make some repairs on the Court house and I would like to ask you to consider using some of this revenue to some sort of living quarters to the jail. As you know, the League of Women Voters of Bay St. Louis consider it imperative that something should be done about a night jailer, and also about a matron when there are women prisoners. As I recall, there was a recommendation from the Grand Jury to this effect, and also that better food be given the prisoners, and to my mind, a resident jailer would be the simplest and most economical means of achieving both these ends.

"Would you be good enough to read this letter at your next meeting of the board, and to give this suggestion careful thought."

Youth Council Meets Monday

Mississippi's 265 'forgotten' cities and towns are seeking a one-cent share of the state 7-cent gasoline tax as permanent financial aid for repair and construction of streets, commissioners Sylvan Ladner and J. Cyril Gover announced today.

Bills calling for earmarking one-seventh of state gasoline revenue funds for distribution to municipalities on a per capita basis were introduced in the legislature Tuesday under the sponsorship of the Mississippi Municipal Association.

If approved, the measure would return approximately $5.13 out of the $10.62 in motor vehicle taxes which the average citizen living in the state's incorporated municipalities now pays.

"In the past all of the gasoline and motor vehicle taxes paid by municipal citizens has been channeled to the state and county highway systems, and we have received none of this money for use on our city streets," the commissioners said upon their return from Jackson.

They pointed out that last year the state collected over $39.2 million from gasoline and motor vehicle privilege taxes, of which $30.4 million went to the state highway system and $12.8 million to the counties for road purposes.

In addition to these funds, the state highway commission received $10 million from federal aid and the counties under the state-aid rural road program got $5.5 million from the state treasury.

"The state has an inescapable responsibility of dividing the money from automotive taxes fairly between the three transportation systems—city, county, and state," they declared.

"They said that a 1949 report by the legislative highway study committee showed that 21 percent of the gasoline used in Mississippi is burned on city streets, and that this estimate is considered to be low.

Under the legislation proposed in both branches of the legislature, the cities would receive one-seventh of the gasoline tax revenues after deduction of state highway bond payments and expenses for operating the motor vehicle comp-troller's office.

The Mississippi Municipal Association, headed by Mayor Harvey Lee Morrison of Okolona, estimates that this division of the gasoline tax revenues would provide about $3.9 million annually.

Because of the upward trend of gasoline taxes every year since World War II the association estimates that the first year loss of tax revenues by the counties and state highway department would be offset within two years.

"Since 1948, the municipalities have gone hat in hand to the legislature seeking permanent financial aid in the form of a share of state taxes," they asserted.

Now that there are numerous speed hulls plying in the waters around this and other areas, its about time that the proud owners begin to remember the other fellows and use their boats with caution when passing those who are fishing from skiffs and from the bank - slow down when passing other boats as the waves caused by the propellers wash against the bank and wuddies the water and fishermen havet o wait until the water settles again. It is also dangerous to those in smaller skiffs. Enjoy boat riding, but have some regard for others. thanks.

Dennie Tonkel says that he has started fly fishing again in earnest - he was out over the weekend and caught a few. A low tide is the best Dennie.

Luke Elliott and Al Baudry are coming over for the weekend to do some fishing and golfing. Luke has been telling us of the big ones being caught around Baton Rouge.

Haven't heard much from our old friend Al Kingston of late regarding his fishing episodes. He should have more time now that the hunting season is over.

Golfing has come into its own at the Pass Christian Isle Club. Local golfers are out on every occasion. Several were seen over the week end among whom were Bernard Farrelly, Leo Seal, Don Hamilton. Horace Neacise of DeLisle and the old bunch from the non-existent Pine Hills Course were glad to some old buddies from the Bay on the course Sunday. The course is in fine shape at this time says, Alex Cunningham, the course pro.

Seems as though some who have been having checkups have been advised by their physicians to get out and get some exercise among them going to golf are Mayor John Seafide and Jos. R. Scharff. It is good for what ails you, boys! Golf is also a real ladies game

HOT WATER FOR ANY PURPOSE

The pup might as well have his bath, too! There's plenty of hot water for every purpose... with an automatic GAS water heater on the job 24 hours a day.

Here in the Gulf South folks depend on gas to do many of the big jobs in the home. And well they may... for adequate supplies of natural gas are available for present needs, and more is being found all the time.

Natural gas producers invest millions of dollars every year in the search for more gas for you. There's a business in the real American tradition... a keenly competitive business which for many years has been free of needless regulation. Let's keep it that way, and be sure of gas for the future.

Budget-wise families agree that natural gas service is the biggest bargain in the home today - worth every cent they pay for it... and then some!

Vassali - Burns
Wedding This Week

Betty Vassali, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Vassali was married to Albert Burns, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Burns of New Orleans in a Wednesday wedding which was a social highlight of the season.

The wedding took place at 3 p. m. at Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church, Father Taylor officiating at the double ring ceremony.

Decorations used for the church were white gladioli, chrysanthemums and candles mixed with greenery.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a lace over satin full length wedding gown fashioned with a close fitting bodice, accented at the yoke with seed pearls. The full skirt fell into an intricate train arrangement of fluted nylon ruffles. The gown was short sleeved and the bride wore lace mitts which came to a point at the hands. Her fingertip veil was worn with a small cap of lace and seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley centered with a white orchid.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Geraldine Martin. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Noelle Crosslin, Mrs. Charles Hedricks of Mississippi City and Joann Blanchard. They wore gowns of aqua nylon tulle and taffeta with match-

Buyers' Mart

Mardi Gras is on the way with its attendant parties, dancing and general hoopla.

Brewster's Jewelry Store, nestled in the corner of the bustling Mollere Realty office on Coleman Avenue in Waveland, is all set to do your good deeds for you in the way of favors. They specialize in pretty baubles which cost mere pennies.

The friendship rings which are so popular now, especially among the younger set are shown in abundance at this jewelry store. The wide silver bands make a lasting gift, but cost only $1.50. A wide variety of patterns is available.

Another carnival "must" for the ladies is an evening bag. For about four dollars, Brewster's can supply you with a pretty one, containing a vanity case, lipstick and room for a few of the other essentials. There one we liked best was black, with a small gold design on the case.

Brewster's has elegant little sterling silver bracelets ranging in price from about five dollars to about eight dollars. These, too, are lasting gifts marking a memorable carnival season. A particularly pretty choice here would be a simple silver bracelet, with a heart and key charm attached. It costs ing caps of tulle. The maid of honor carried a bouquet of white roses and the other attendants carried similar bouquets of red roses.

Best man was the brother of the groom, Wallace Burns. Groomsmen were Charles Benigno, Gary Gilmore and Sam Benigno of Galveston, Texas. Ushers were Eddie Brignac and Jimmy Gilmore.

While you're shopping, you can look at the cuff links in sterling for your favorite male—he should be a favorite, because these are a plump $7.50 or so—and they look like more.

City Echoes

Patricia Ann Burns, with her mother, Mrs. J. A. Burns, arrived in the city from New Orleans, La., on Friday, Feb. 19, 1954, for a visit.

of the ten days, but is expected by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Depree, to be much improved. Suite of her illness Patricia gained a pound in the hospital.

—Mr. and Mrs. J. Y. Gaudin of Morgan City, La., visited relatives and friends here Friday and Saturday.

—Mrs. and Mrs. James Arley are planning to leave soon for Winter Haven, Florida where they will stay for several months.

CARD OF THANKS

The sisters, brothers and family of Mrs. Lily Radovich wish to extend their sincere appreciation for the consolation and flowers given them upon the death of Mrs. Radovich. They especially wish to thank Dr. Quigley and the county board.

The store also has a winning selection of costume jewelry to make a lady stand and admire for quite a long time. A representative price for the earrings is $1.50, for a pair of heart shaped, gold-like ones. These have a bit of decoration on the flat surface of the earring but are plain enough to use for any occasion.

Pins decorate the shelves in profusion, too. We liked a heart shaped pin (still in the throes of Valentine's maybe) centered with a colored stone—most any color you want—and edged with tiny pearls.

While you're shopping, you can look at the cuff links in sterling for your favorite male—he should be a favorite, because these are a plump $7.50 or so—and they look like more.

Be There!

The long-awaited meeting with L&N Railroad officials is scheduled for the coming week. This could be the moment of make-or-break for decent commuter service to New Orleans.
You may not commute. That doesn't matter. A good chunk of your living comes from the commuting community. So YOU are directly affected by the commuting prospects of this area.
Civic leaders, city officials and commuters will meet with railroad men and a public service commissioner. The outsiders will take a good look around them. If there's plenty of militant support, they will be more inclined to listen to the demands.
That's why the meeting room should be packed.

Rushing To Death

Two died last week - needlessly.
It's the same old story of people hurrying to death on the highways. Veteran highway patrolmen plead and plead for safer driving. Week after week they see speeders up the highway as without a care in the world. Many of these escape without mishap. Perhaps that's unfortunate. Perhaps there would be less chance-takers if there was less chance to live.
In any event, some miss out on this chance to live. Some die needlessly. They could be saved with a little caution which is, after all, just a little common sense.

Pioneer Moves Forward

George Stevenson opens a new appliance store on Main Street this week-end - a new home for an old business. For 21 years he has served Hancock County.
This is more than a new store, or a successful business. It is really a tribute to free enterprise.
It was a depression that led George Stevenson into business. He lost his job in New Orleans. He had little hope for finding a new job. He could have jumped onto the relief rolls and stayed there. He could have presumed that the world owed him a living.
But he didn't. He opened a tiny business with a partner. And began to build.
This truly is the American way.

By ANNE ORLEANS

Have you ever driven through Thomasville, Ga.? It is near the Florida line and is noted for its beautiful roses, camellias and azaleas. Dr. and Mrs. Charles Wall who have one of the loveliest gardens in Thomasville, were guests last week of Dr. and Mrs. John F. Dicks, at Pine Shadows. Saturday was Dr. Wall's birthday which was celebrated in New Orleans with his two daughters, Mrs. Jack Many and Mrs. Peter Many.

The C. M. Fraerings spent a quiet but busy weekend. No company but working on their tree project. They have planted oak and pecan trees and with their fingers crossed have put in one big magnolia tree.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Turner who are spending more time at their Waveland home are also spending more time in their garden adding camellias and azaleas to the other shrubs among the loveliest of which are the gay, scarlet quince bushes.

The Kenneth Pepperdones doing early Spring cleaning at their place on the Jourdan River, not in the house but on two acres of ground. Tough and tiring work, but how nice the place looks when it is cleared.

Mrs. Sue Whitekettle of New Orleans very busy each week-end adding more plants, principally azaleas and camellias, to the garden of her home in Aiken.

Modern Etiquette

By ROBERTA LEE

Invitation is received when a guest is leaving, as well as arriving?

A. Yes always, and whether the guest be a man or woman. It is exceedingly discourteous if she does not.

Q. How long should a hostess wait for a guest who is late for dinner?

A. No longer than fifteen minutes.

Q. Is it proper to address a wedding invitation to "Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Brown and Family?"

A. No. The words "and family" are no longer used. An invitation should be sent to Mr. and Mrs. Brown, and a separate invitation to each other member of the family.

Q. When passing a plate for a second helping, should one leave the knife and the fork on the plate?

A. Yes. Under no circumstances should silver be placed on the table cover.

Q. Do you think it's all right for girls to appear on the street or in buses with their hair done up in curlers, even though they have scarfs around their heads?

A. This depends upon how those scarfs are tied. If they are tied into attractive turbans with just a little hair showing, it can look all right. But if too many of the curlers are showing, it's not so good.

Q. Where is the date correctly written in a personal letter, at the top right-hand corner or at the lower left?

A. Usually, in a long letter it is written at the top right of the page, and in a short note at the end.

Q. May a wedding "breakfast" be served as late as one P. M.?

A. Yes, it is still properly a wedding breakfast.

Q. If a woman arrives at a friend's party and finds that another woman, with whom she is on unfriendly terms, is there, what does she do?

A. If she is at all well-bred, she will disguise her feelings as best as she can - not only for the sake of her hostess, but of the other guests who could be made very uncomfortable if they were made aware of the ill-feeling.

Q. I received a number of gifts at a birthday party recently, and I thanked each donor personally. Is it also necessary that I write each one a thank-you note?

A. No.

Q. Are the usual bride-and-groom figures the only correct adornment for a wedding cake?

A. While these are most often seen, it is certainly all right to use anything else if you wish.

Q. What is the order of procedure to the dining room in one's home?

A. At a family gathering, the woman of the house leads the feminine party, the host, with the woman guest of honor, goes first, then the other guests, followed by the hostess with whichever man is guest of honor.

Q. Is it proper for the bride-groom-to-be to be present at a shower for his fiancée?

A. No, it isn't. He may however appear at the end of the party to help his fiancée carry her presents home.

Q. Should a man who is signing a hotel register use the prefix "Mr.?"

A. No, he should just sign "Robert L. Porter, Cleveland, O."

THE TEEN TATTLER

by Patsy Shadoin

The S. Joseph's Valentine Dance given in the gym last Sunday night by the Juniors was a huge success. Most of the St. Stanislaus and St. Joseph boarders were there and many students from Bay High. Among the many games played and enjoyed was a cake walk. The winner of the home-made cake, sprinkled with pecans, was Dianne Seuzeneau. There also was a cake raffle and the winner of the white heart-shaped cake was William Boudreaux of St. Stanislaus.

scoring honors in this game.

Don't miss the Teen-Age Club's box supper and square dance Saturday night. The admission is 25 cents for the square dance. The girls' supper will be auctioned off to the highest bidder.

Bay High News

Last Thursday Miss Luvenia Saulier accompanied by her grade mothers, Mrs. Theo Thomas, Jos. Noto and W. G. Steele took her pupils to visit the Post Office. The Postmaster and his assistants showed and explained to the children the complete operation of the mail. The children mailed letters and then observed how they were cancelled and assorted.

The purpose of this visit was to summarize a project they had been working on for several weeks.

Mrs. Ashcraft presented her first grade pupils in an Indian Program. The program was in connection with the unit "Indian Life" that her pupils have been working on. Dr. Burroughs of Mississippi Southern College observed. He commended the program highly.

Mrs. Harriel's fifth grade presented an assembly program Friday, commemorating the birthday of Abraham Lincoln. The program was as follows:

The playing of the "National Anthem," followed by the pledge to the flag. A poem "Lincoln's Story," An Acrostic "Let Freedom Ring," with each child carrying a bell, a replica of the Liberty Bell, in red, white, and blue, and bearing the letters "Let Freedom Ring" with flag bearers at either end of the line. The Gettysburg Address was read, followed by the singing of "America the Beautiful."

In the speed and accuracy contest last week, Alice Shubert was the final champion, defeating Rosemary Millinery, the winner of the fifth and sixth periods. Alice Shubert was the winner of all the four periods of typewriting classes.

The winner of this week's contest has not yet been determined. Alice Shubert and Mary Palmer are playing in the finals for the first period; Alvin Bernard plays the winner of Clare Carr and Glenda Reed; in the fifth period, William Reese was declared winner over Walter Damians; and in the sixth period, Helen Dawsey will play the winner of the test.

This week, the students in the typewriting classes are beginning to use letterhead paper for writing their business letters. Different forms and variety of letterheads are used, so that the student can have practice in setting up a balanced letter on the different kinds.

The Office Supply Company of Gulfport, has loaned an Underwood electric typewriter, and the students are enjoying typing on this machine, electrically driven, and comparing the differences of the manual and electric machines. Watch for results of next week's contests—there may be a new winner! The electric machine may make the difference. In several of the periods new names are winners, and not always the same name in each period.

The progress Mississippi is making in reforestation and forest protection is closely linked with the progress our wood-using industries are making toward new uses, new products and new markets for our forest resources.

Working together, our forest landowners and wood-using industries are making a great contribution to the economic welfare of this state.

Realizing this, more of our citizens are joining to encourage the continued development and protection of our forest resources. These same citizens are using their influence to offer a friendly business climate in which our forest landowners and wood-using industries can continue to work together to provide more jobs and more income for more Mississippians.

Big Telephone Year for Mississippi

Since the first Mississippi telephone exchange opened at Vicksburg on January 10, 1881, we've kept pace with the growth and expansion of Mississippi.

During 1953, we spent over 11 million dollars in the State to improve service and to place an additional 12,000 telephones at the service of Mississippians.

Throughout the State, today, our people are at work—providing for Mississippi's present telephone needs and planning for the years to come; while researchers in our laboratories are working to find ways of providing even better service for telephone users everywhere.

Country Agent Notes

It is a good idea to let an experienced tractor repair service man give your tractor a thorough check-up. Have it timed for best efficiency. This will not only make for more power from your tractor, but will also give longer life.

Here are some points to check on your tractor before the 1954 farming season: 1. Check the oil—the oil that did the job on cold winter mornings might not be heavy enough to do the same job in warm weather.

2. Check the spark plug wires. After these wires get old and rotten, they will absorb moisture on damp mornings and ground out the fire going to the plugs. It does not cost much to replace these wires, but it might save costly delays.

3. Make sure that the carburetor air cleaner is in place and operating properly. Under ordinary operating conditions the air cleaner should be checked daily and under severe dusty conditions even more frequently.

4. Get the most from your fuel. Check an clean all screens and sediment bowls. Check oil lines for leaks—leaky fuel lines are dangerous. Be sure that the carburetor is properly adjusted. Use only clean fuel of the proper grade as recommended by the operator's manual. Warm up the engine before applying a heavy load.

DOCK AND ONIONS
Dock and onions generally are up to a good stand now and it is a good time to get rid of them. Use Amine, 2, 4-d for the dock. However, do not spray this material on crimson clover red clover, winter peas or vetch. The amine 2,4-d will not kill off black medic or white clover, cereals, ryegrass or fescue.

In spraying for onions, use maleic hydrazide (MH-40). This material will kill any growing plant. It should be applied to dormant permanent pastures and on land at a higher seeding rate to help that is being fallowed.

Cotton Seed
Cotton seed in storage for 1954 planting should be tested for germination. Farmers should take a representative one-pound sample from each storage place and send the samples to the State Seed Testing Laboratory at Mississippi State College.

This test is useful in determining whether as high a percentage of the seed will germinate as you expect. If the percentage of germination is lower than you would like, you should know it and plant a normal stand.

Cotton seed may be of a lower germination this year because of the extremely dry weather of the past harvesting season and because of the generally fast ginning, which caused the dry seed coats of many seed to check.

In addition to checking on the percent germination of your plant-cotton seed, be sure to have the seed delinted and treated.

Cotton Insects
For highest cotton yields, insects must be controlled. A thorough job of poisoning is necessary, and for best results, timing and method of application should both follow the entomologist's recommendations.

Plan now to do a good job of insect control when the need arises, go see your local county agent now and ask for a free copy of the 1954 cotton insect control recommendations Publication 276. It is a handy, hip-pocket size, books and is full of helpful information.

FORESTRY NEWS

Four and a quarter million people, most of them farmers, own 445 million acres of Commercial forest land here in the United States. On these acres are grown much of the wood used by American Lumber, Pulpwood and other forestry industries. These industries give thousands of workers employment. Be a good citizen, help the farmers grow the wood
we need to keep these workers employed; protect our forest from fires.

When you are hunting or driving through forested areas, remember to be careful with fire. One match or cigarette carelessly dropped, one camp fire left un attended can start a fire that could burn a forest. In winter woods that have not been burned present a beautiful landscape, but once fire goes through them they take on the appearance of a grave yard—dead seedlings, injured trees and as sickly black. Remember for the sake of the young generation help us prevent forest fires.

Author Smythe
Reviews Book

David M. Smythe will review his book "Madame de Pompadour," at the Memorial Library Thursday, February 25 at three p. m.

Smythe, who is the second author to appear in the series of spring reviews scheduled at the library, will also be present at a tea following the afternoon's program, when those present will have an opportunity to meet and talk with him.

Tickets will be one dollar. Those who have contributed to all three reviews are requested to present their cards at the door.

Proceeds will be used to aid in retirement of mortgage notes on the new library building.

The author of "Madame de Pompadour" is the son of a Memphis surgeon and a graduate of the University of Virginia in 1938.
He became at that time the youngest person ever to enter the United States Foreign Service.

During his stay in Paris on the staff of Ambassador William C.
Bullett he developed the idea of writing this biography of the famous French woman. He visited most of the places associated with her name and began his work, based on the idea that Madame de Pompadour was one of the greatly misunderstood women in history.

In 1947, with his appointment to the history staff of Loyola University, Mr. Smythe was able to continue his research and writing.
The biography was published during the past year. It has, the author said, thrown new light on both Louis XV and his favorite at court.

In Pearl River

Interest is running high in the northeastern section of Pearl River County following preliminary completion gauges which indicated daily production of more than 3,000,000 cubic feet of natural gas from the latest Pistol Ridge field extension well, Southern Minerals Corp. et al No. 1, drilled in Section 2-1s-14w by I. P. LaRue and American Liberty Oil Co.

The new gasser was completed in the Massive sand of the Lower Tuscaloosa horizon at 8510-25 feet. Since nearest previous production is one and one-quarter miles to the southeast, this extension to the field assumes considerable significance several drilling attempts will be undertaken on the strength of the LaRue-American Liberty gas well in the near future.
